

Government control

"The CDC, the WHO, and the government are using the vaccine to control people. Now, so many people are dying suddenly after getting the vaccine. I don't want any part in that."

---

"I've heard other people express this concern. Millions of people, including me, have gotten the vaccine, and not experienced negative consequences or died. The vaccine's benefits in protecting people against severe COVID symptoms and hospitalizations make the vaccine worth considering."

Note: It can be difficult to talk through this kind of situation with a patient, especially because they have animosity towards traditional data sources and research. It's important to bring the conversation to a more individual level and speak just about your perspective as a provider and what you hope for them as your patient.
