

The Vaccine causes miscarriages...

"I am pregnant right now and a friend of mine said she knows someone who got the vaccine while pregnant and then miscarried. I cannot imagine having to go through that so I would rather not get the vaccine at all."

"I am really sorry that happened to her. That's very difficult to go through, and I hope she is being supported by her doctor and loved ones during this time. I do want to address your concerns about miscarriage. A recent study with almost 14,000 women found that there was not an increased risk of miscarriage in women who got the vaccine. "

"Other studies have found that pregnant women who get the vaccine pass on antibodies to protect their child from COVID-19. This reduces the risk of new babies being hospitalized within the first six months of birth. As your pharmacist, I believe the vaccine can protect both you and your child against the negative health effects of COVID."